BECAUSE COMPETENCES ATTRACT EACHOTHER!

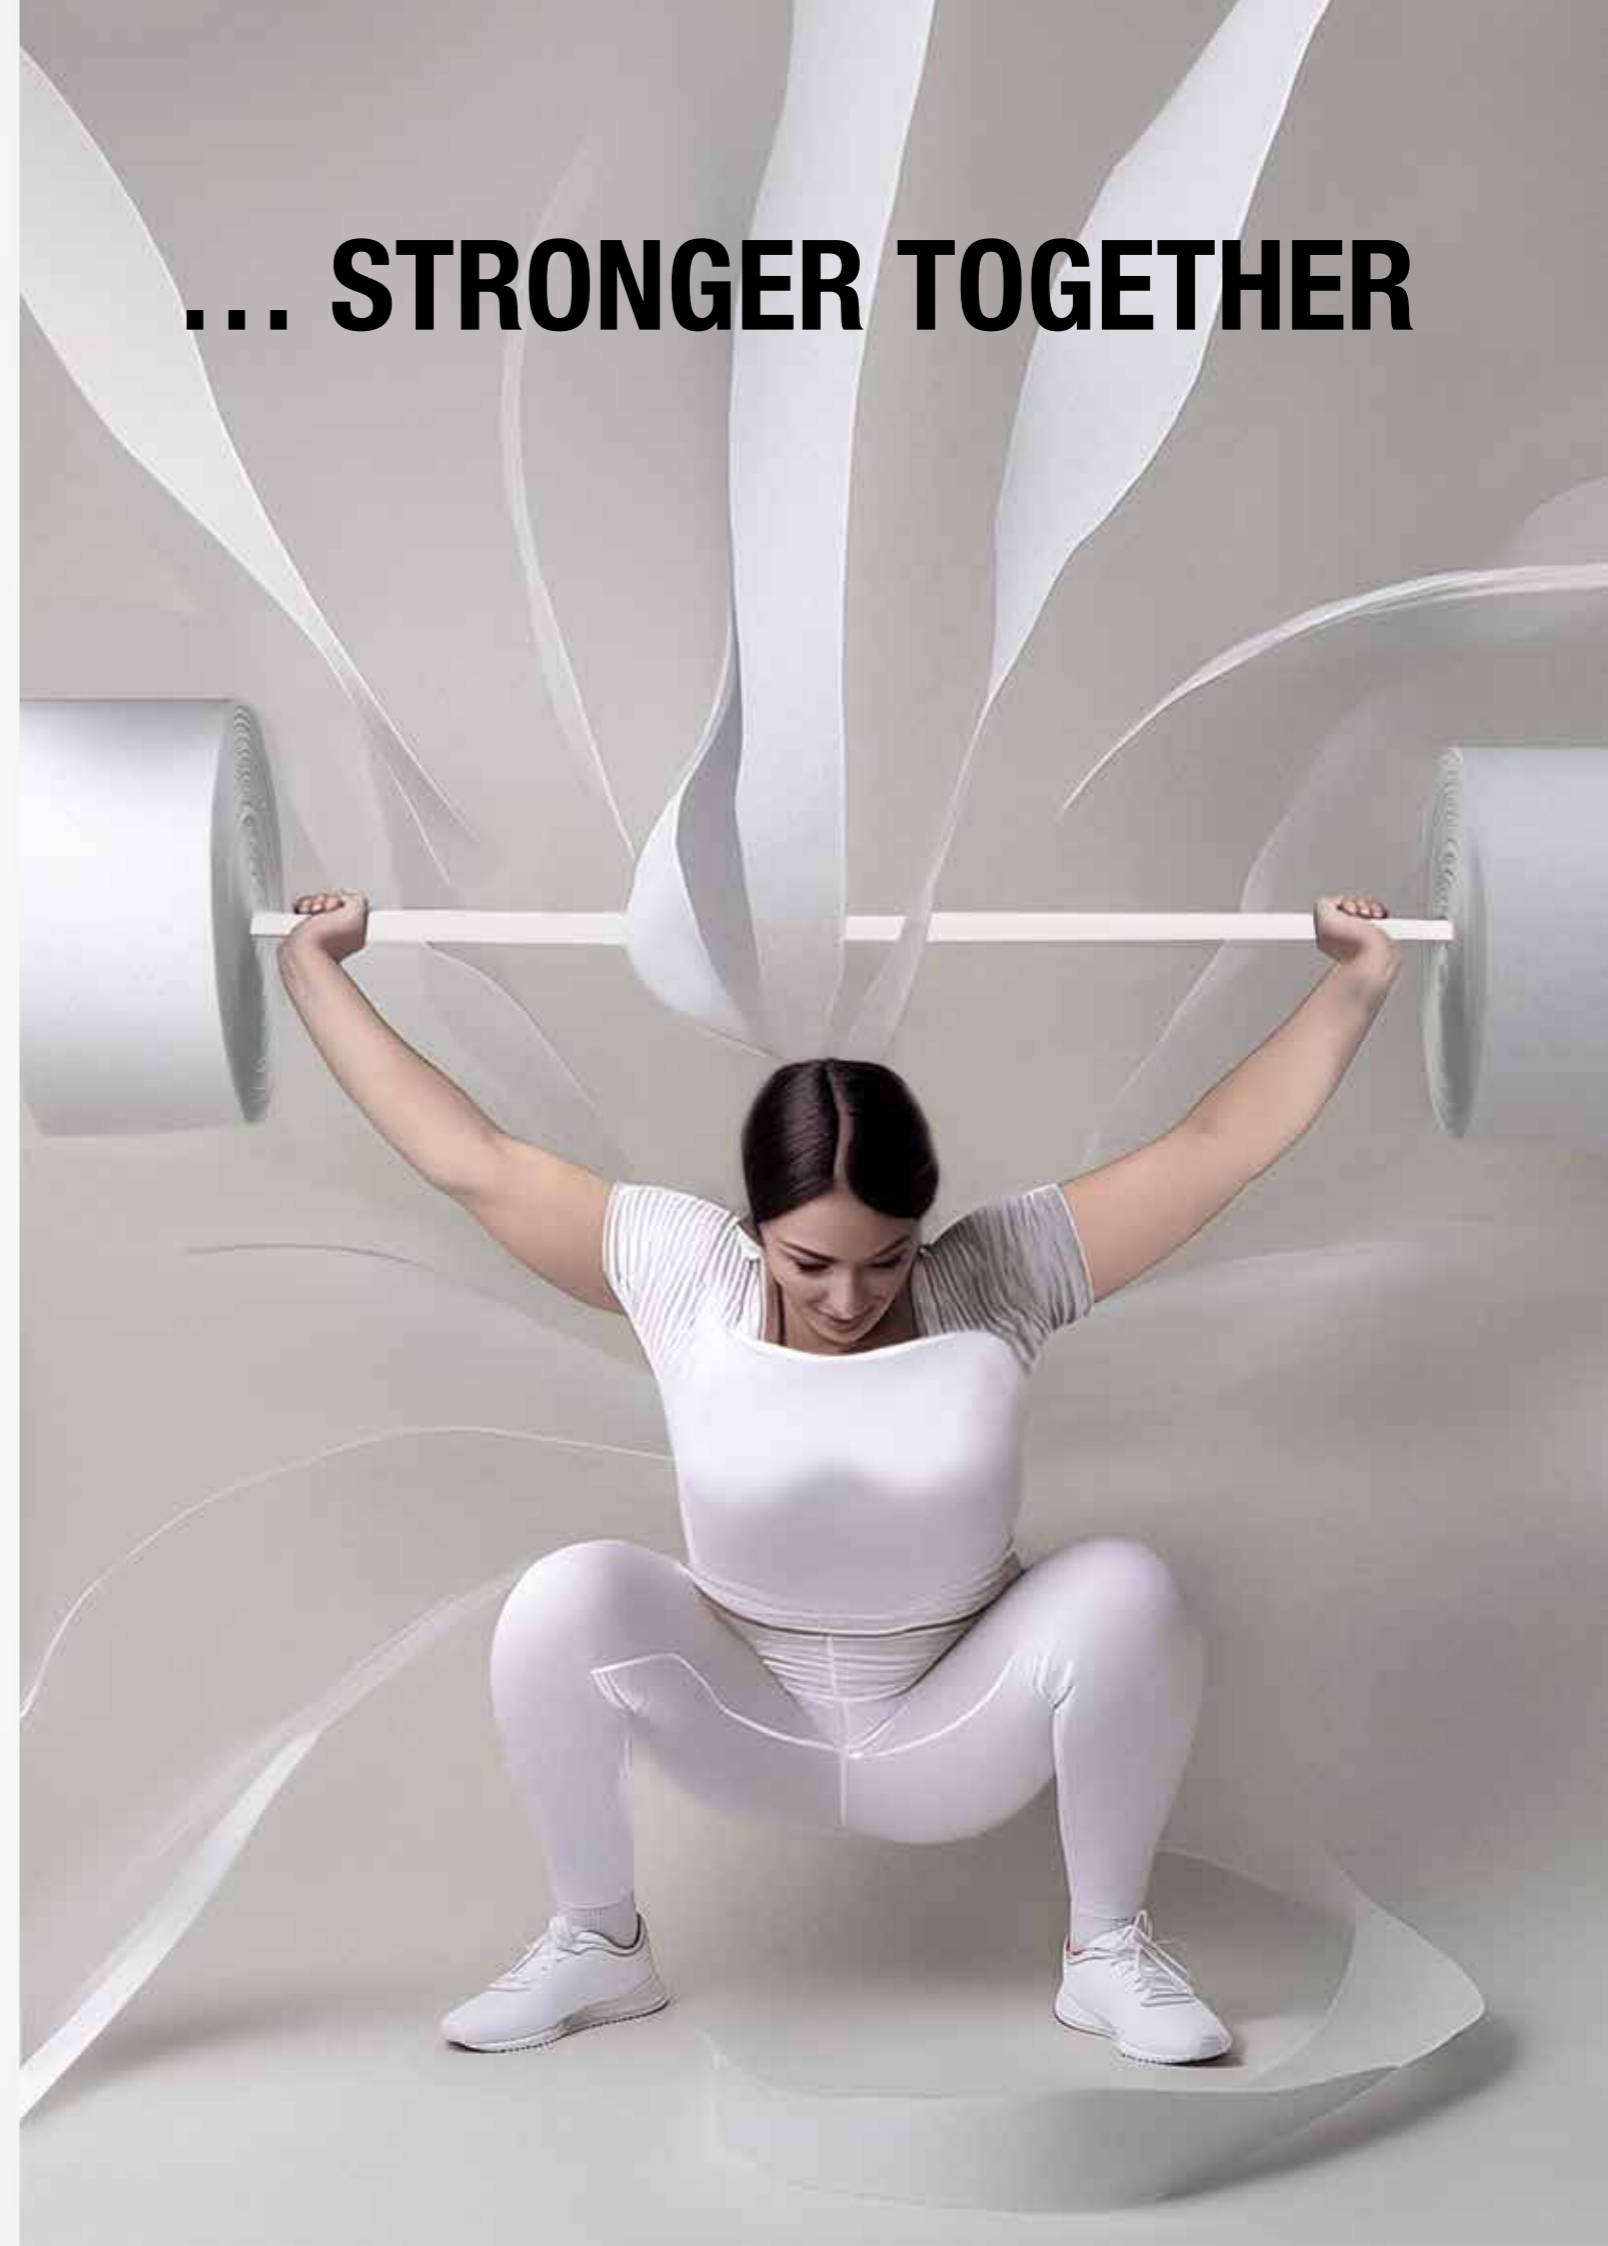

THE PAPER FAMILY – A strong community from the first idea to the final product.

For generations we have been producing, processing and distributing the finest papers in the world – each individually and only around 50 kilometers apart. That should now change.

Only with a holistic expert team is it possible to select or even develop the right paper for you. In the Paper Family, you have people by your side who are knowledgeable in papermaking and know how to perfectly process the finest paper. Our impressive product variety offers you tailored paper solutions of the highest quality. One point of contact for three traditional family businesses. This way, you enjoy our best possible individualized support while also benefiting from faster, more streamlined processes throughout the entire vertical production chain.

And we already have one thing in common: The passion for the finest paper and uncompromising quality standards, with the aim of always developing the best possible result for our customers.
